Rockville Bank

Cathy Pompei
toll free: (800) 871-1859

Rockville Bank is located at 99 Linwood Avenue in Colchester. The branch opened over a year ago, with the purpose of offering low-cost, value added products to the community. According to Assistant Vice President, Hub Manager, Branch Officer Cathy Pompei, the decision was made to open a branch in Colchester because it is an up and coming community. This location is the bank's first branch in New London County. Its' outside grounds are certified as a national wildlife habitat.

The company has been in business for over 150 years. They focus on providing superior customer service every day and let their customers know that they are here to stay. Rockville Bank is very community orientated and is into the "green mode." In January 2009 they opened Connecticut's first bank branch with an entire property utilizing green technology indoors and out.

On August 28th the community is invited to visit the Colchester branch and enjoy their "Grill Date." In appreciation of loyal customers, free, grilled food will be provided as well as a free raffle for a grill, between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Pompei is a town resident with her husband David. She is the VP of the CBA, VP of the Colchester Garden Club, Chair of the Economic Development Commission, and a Rotarian.

CBA/Food Bank Partnership Program

The CBA kicked off a new drive this month, the CBA/Food Bank Partnership Program. This initiative could raise up to two thousand dollars in much needed funds for local families that rely on the food bank to supplement their daily meals and personal product needs. Participants of the program are asked to make a one dollar donation (or more if they desire) and in return they receive a paper gazebo that represents the gazebo located on the town green. The gazebo is a symbol for community coming together in support, through good times and not so good times.

The gazebo's can be filled out with the name of the donor and will be hung at participating CBA member stores and offices in visible locations. They will also be displayed at this year's 57 Fest and other events.

Family Pizza Restaurant Staff with Gazebos.
