Delightful Distractions is based out of Colchester. Run by travel professional Karen Hollingsworth, she helps travelers find the vacation that fits their needs best. As an independent consultant of Dugan's Travels, she has access to a network of 600 agents that work together to provide updated information on the best hotels, area activities, and vacation venues.

Karen became a travel consultant because she loves to travel and helping others to be happy. She has traveled to many countries in Europe, all over the U.S.A., Mexico, Caribbean, Hawaii, and has been on several cruises. She uses her travel experience, and the advice of the agents in her network to provide travel itineraries that fit each person's style and desires.

Clients of Delightful Distractions often find that it does not cost more to use Karen's services than it does to plan on their own; what they get out of it is saving time, energy, and are presented with several options to choose from. She is also available to take care of any needs that may arise while her clients are on vacation.

Karen focuses on providing the best value for her traveler's vacation dollars. She works with individuals and groups. Although she can help plan any vacation, she specializes in custom itineraries and all inclusive vacations in the Caribbean. She regularly takes courses on what countries have to offer and makes house calls!
