Skyview Realty LLC is a Real Estate company located at the historic Hayward House, at 35 Hayward Avenue. In business since June 2001, the company's owner broker Jack Faski serves his clients with over 24 years of Realtor experience. He and his team of experienced agents are dedicated to helping buyers locate homes that best suit their needs, and sellers attain the highest price possible with the lowest stress.

Serving the central CT area, the team focuses on providing informative, honest, customized service and building long lasting relationships. Buyers and sellers that work with Faski's team have access to the latest technology that provides instant email blasts on new properties. Buyers also receive easy access to addresses and property information. As an independent firm, they are able to truly give close personalized attention and focus on putting their clients best interests first.

Residents of Colchester might recognize Jack and his partner/wife Lori, as they have been town residents for over 23 years. They are very active in the community and support local sports teams, historical society, land trust, and other community groups as well as the community theater. Jack is the president of the CBA and an active member of the Lion's Club.
